SECRET OF GOOD FOOD

INDIVIDUALITY IN COOKING IS TO BE DESIRED.

Woman Who Puts Herself into Her Work Is the One Whose Meals Are Palatable.

A prominent Englishman, commenting on us and our institutions, says that the food provided in the large hotels is as good as can be expected outside of a small restaurant.

It is a criticism that has more in it than seems, for if most of us were offered the choice of a meal at a large hotel or a small restaurant would we not take the large hotel? Yet the right kind of small restaurant would in all probability furnish us with a more palatable meal. For in the right kind of small restaurant one gets personal cookery. And delightful individuality in cooking is as much to be desired as in anything else. All the places that are famous for their cookery are famous because of some personality. They become known through their chef. They are spoken of as Oscar's, or Josef's, or Mme. Gruyere's.
It is the personality of Oscar, or Josef, or Madame that is the sauce piquante of the cookery there.

It is this lack of personal cookery that makes the food offered in some restaurants and boarding houses so tasteless. It is as insipid as a person without any kind of individuality. In certain kinds of restaurants, from Maine to California, roast lamb tastes the same, and coffee is the same brown, insipid drink. The cook in these restaurants probably says "Lamb's lamb," and salts and peppers it mechanically, with her mind on something else, slams it into the oven, and thinks cooking is beastly work anyway, and she's going to get another job.

Whereas the cook who adds personality to her cooking studies her roast carefully, noting its weight and quality, dusts with pepper and salt thoughtfully, to get just the right quantity, adds a bit of this herb, a hint of that spill, watches it assiduously, bastes it frequently and sends it to the table with joy, knowing it is juicy and tender and has a flavor all its own.

She is putting herself into her work.
She is expressing herself through her work. And isn't this more worth while, just for one's own sake, than to go expressionless?

Some of us look upon cooking as menial and beneath us. And we do not care very much what kind of cooking we turn out. But if we are going to do it, why not put ourselves into it?
Why not give it personality and pi-quancy? Why not let it become famous in our circle, our village or our town? It is worth while to express our best selves in whatever medium we take up.

BARBARA BOYD.

Washing Vells.

Few women have success in washing white chiffon vells and scarfs, and attempt to clean them in various ways, but they can be washed successfully, and the method is very simple. Use water that is only tepid, not hot, add a pinch of borax to soften it, and then make a good suds with some good white soap, says the Ladies' World.
Let the chiffon soak in this for about fifteen or twenty minutes and then squeeze it gently with the hands until quite clean, but never wring or twist it. Rinse through several waters, adding just a suspicion of blueing to the last water. Lay smoothly on a towel or clean cloth and press between the layers with a moderately hot iron before it is quite dry. Very hot irons or hot water will yellow white chiffon, and then, too, a too hot iron is apt to stick and pull the chiffon out of shape.

Cutting Expenses.

When eggs are scarce and high, in making doughnuts, boil and mash a good-sized potato, beat it in with the sugar and make the doughnuts as usual without any eggs. They will keep moist and good, says the Pictorial Review.

In making pumpkin or squash pies, in place of eggs roll crackers fine and use as much of them in bulk as you would of eggs. You could not tell the difference if you did not know it.
When you want pudding for dinner and have no milk, try adding another egg and a few more raisins and use warm water in place of milk.

Creole Sauce.

Into a small saucepan put one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of finely-chopped onion, the same of green pepper, and cook slowly until the butter is deep brown, but not burned. Stand aside for five minutes; then add one tablespoonful of vinegar and one tablespoonful of freshly-grated horseradish; simmer for three minutes, add one teaspoonful of flour, stir until smooth; then gradually dilute with one cupful of concentrated tomatoes. Add salt and simmer five minutes.

For Children's Lunch Basket.

To make sponge cookies for the children's supper or lunch box, sift together in the mixing bowl one and one-half cupfuls of flour, two teaspoon-fuls baking powder, a quarter teaspoonful of salt, and one cupful of sugar. Break two eggs into a cup and fill the cup with cream or rich milk.
Stir this in with the flour and sugar mixture, then beat hard for eight minutes. Turn into lightly greased gum pans and bake in a moderate oven about ten minutes.
